Capabilities

Design Services: Custom fit designs with security and sustainability in mind Sonoco Alloyd's full-service, in-house design shop makes your product a standout in the market, faster and for less.

Thermoforming: Specializing in face seal, mock clamshells, trapped blisters, insert trays, traditional clamshells and prototype packaging Once a packaging design is selected, a custom blister form tooling mold may be made. Our in-house process of mold making, thermoform tooling and production ensures the security and integrity of your product.

Printing: Blister cards, folding cartons and insert cards Our state-of-the-art Printed Products division is one of the premier manufacturers of carded packaging products in North America. Our full-service printing capabilities, rapid turnaround time, combination runs and innovative structural design gets you to market quickly and cost effectively.

Tooling: Quality, precision-made aluminum tooling Whether the project calls for blister-to-card, blister-to-blisters or medical-grade lidding to blister tray sealing, we design our heat-sealing tooling to your specifications, guaranteeing the highest quality seal. Each set of tooling is tested for performance and integrity and includes nesting trays, magazines and plug racks for blisters and cards, and heat plate and package eject assembly.

Machines: Over 50 years of package sealing expertise Sonoco Alloyd is the leading provider of automatic, semi-automatic and reconditioned sealing machines that improve operating efficiencies, reduce costs and advance operator/equipment interaction through ergonomically enhanced designs. Our Aergo® line of packaging machinery features heat- and fusion-sealing and radio frequency (RF) welding technology, all designed for safety and ease-of-use.

Display Services: High-impact retail display and packaging design Sonoco Alloyd's point-of-purchase solutions are designed to provide easy setup, heighten visual interest and impact, encourage consumer interaction, increase brand awareness and facilitate sales. An award-winning mix of form and function, our designs have produced results for clients across markets and across the world.

We bring more to packaging than just the package.

At Sonoco, we take great pride in our ability to “deliver on the promise.” You have the products consumers want. We have the global reach, scalability and product launch expertise to achieve your goals. Contact Sonoco Alloyd today and complete your successful path to purchase.
